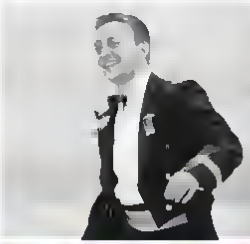
Families of pilots left 'heartbroken'



FAMILIES friends and colleagues of two Oxfordshire RAF pilots who died in a helicopter crash in Afghanistan have been remembered as talented and loving flight lieutenants

Tributes to RAF Benson pilots Alan Scott 32 known as Scotty and Gerant Roberts 44 known as Roly were released by comrades and relatives on Monday

They were among five who died when the UK Puma Mk2 they were flying in crashed while landing at NATO's Resolute Support mission headquarters in Kabul.

By Loughlan Campbell

The Ministry of Defence confirmed the crash was an accident and not an attack by rebels adding that an investigation was under way

Prime Minister and Witney MP David Cameron opened Prime Minister's Questions yesterday with a tribute to the flight lieutenants

He said "They have given their lives serving our country and I would like to issue my deepest sympathies to their families and friends at this time"

Flt Lt Scott's spouse said. "There are no words and no justice Yesterday my wonderful beloved husband Alan Scott was killed in a helicopter crash in Kabul

"My heart is broken at the fact that such a vivacious young and amazing person can be taken so cruelly and suddenly"

Flt Lt Scott studied at Loughborough University before enlisting in the RAF as a pilot in 2006 and being posted to RAF Benson near Wallingford to 2009

Jobs losses as hospital kitchens shut for cuts

By Loughlan Campbell

DESPITE opposition from campaigners and councillors the remaining four Oxfordshire community hospital kitchens have been closed.

The move means 15 members of staff lost their jobs.

Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust confirmed yesterday they closed the kitchens at Wantage, Didcot, Wallingford and Witney hospitals in the last two months in order to save the trust around £300,000 a year.

Instead frozen ready meals are being served to patients.

In May the Guardian reported campaigners submitted a petition signed by 474 people to the trust against the plans to shut the kitchens.

The trust subsequently never ran a public consultation on the plans to cut the kitchens and campaigner and Oxfordshire County Councillor Jenny Hannaby said she is concerned about what the trust's 'back up plan' is.

Cllr Hannaby said: "I cannot see what more we can do now that the kitchens have been closed but my main concern is what do we do now in terms of having a back up plan in place for this programme?

"What will they do if they can't get the service into the hospital? "Will they go down to the supermarket and buy the patients sandwiches and cake?

Cllr Hannaby, who is also chairman of the Wantage Community Hospital League of Friends, said she has already heard that the cook-chill service had already been late in a delivery to the hospital in Garston Lane.

She added: "This cannot happen, patients are dependent on this service."

In a survey carried out by the campaigners they found that seven out of 10 people in the area opposed the kitchen's closures.

A spokesperson for the Oxford NHS Foundation Trust said: "A recent survey showed that our new food service was rated acceptable, good or excellent by 90 per cent of patients.

"The move to cook chill meals across all our sites gives our patients a consistent quality with an assured nutritional value and portion size.

"We recognise that food is something about which people can have strong views, but we believe this change will bring overall benefit to our patients."

Oxfordshire's White Horse features in UK culture film

THE White Horse in Uffington appears in a new film demonstrating the best of England's creativity in a film developed by Arts Council England.

The short one minute film also features and celebrates literary icon William Shakespeare, music group The Beatles and graffiti artist Banksy.

The Arts Council England which is the national development agency for the arts, states the film celebrates how art and culture from areas like Oxfordshire has helped to shape communities, broadened horizons and enrich people's lives.

The White Horse is shown at the 0.33 second mark in the film in an aerial shot in which the voiceover talks about England's cultural heritage.

The prehistoric hill figure dates back to the Iron Age (600 BC – AD 100) and is found five miles west of Wantage overlooking the Vale of White Horse district to the north.

The National Trust manages the site and the figure is regarded as a scheduled monument, which protects it under the Ancient Monuments and Archeological Areas Act 1979.

Lovelace letters revealed for first time at Oxford library

By Loughlan Campbell

NEVER-BEFORE-SEEN letters and work from pioneering mathematician Ada Lovelace are on display at a University of Oxford library to commemorate her 200th birthday.

The Universityʼs Weston Library in Broad Street is showcasing a free exhibition to the public containing a manuscript of her workings with Victorian mathematician, Charles Babbage.

The works went on display to mark Ada Lovelace Day on Tuesday an internationally recognised annual celebration of the achievements of women in science, technology, engineering and maths.

Lovelace was born as Ada Gordon in London on December 10 in 1815, as the only child of the celebrated poet George Lord Byron Gordon.

She is most famous for her article about Babbageʼs Analytical Engine, which was never built, but had all the essential elements of a modern computer.

Her article, Sketch of the Analytical Engine with notes from the translator, which was written in 1843, has been celebrated by mathematicians and engineers ever since.

The exhibition, titled Ada Countess of Lovelace, computer pioneer, also features Lovelaceʼs original exercises, letters and mathematical notes, and shows the calculations of Lovelace and Babbage when they were working on the initial format for the Analytical Engine.

Ursula Martin, CBE, Professor of Computer Science at the University of Oxford, who curated the display, said: "This magical document shows Lovelace and Babbage working at problems together.

"It is as if you are in the room with them and you could pick up your pencil and join in.

"I find Ada so inspiring as if you think about the knowledge she had on the processes of a computer at that time, she was way ahead of her time."

Richard Ovenden, the Bodleian's librarian, said: "The Bodleian Libraries is delighted to be leading the celebrations of Ada Lovelace's remarkable achievements by showcasing the letters, journals and worksheets held in the collection.

"This is the first time these items will be on public display and we encourage people to visit the display to learn more about Ada's important role in the development of computer science.

"By exploring more about her life we hope to inspire a new generation of scientists."

The university is hosting a range of events leading up to the mathematician's birth.

Wikipedia workshops to improve the website's content about women in science were held from Monday to today at the university's IT Services office in Banbury Road.

A conference celebrating Lovelace's 200th birthday will also be held at the University's Mathematical Institute on Woodstock Road from December 9 to December 10.

E-lamp posts

OXFORD The city council has submitted a bid for £9 million from the Government to make the city more electric car friendly.

The money would go to the city and county council for projects including installing extra charging points for electric vehicles. These could include fitting BMW designed charging points in lampposts.

The bid was submitted on October 1.

Botley plan

BOTLEY Nearly 400 people responded to a document to help shape the future of West Way shopping centre in Botley.

Design firm BDP produced a 'Supplementary Planning Document' on behalf of the Vale of White Horse District and a consultation on it received 396 responses before it closed on September 25.

They will be considered before a revised document is presented to the council's scrutiny committee next Thursday.

Tributes paid to two RAF Benson pilots after Afghanistan helicopter crash

He was on his first operational tour with the Puma after graduating from an operational conversion flight programme at RAF Benson. He was due to go on to qualify as a tactics instructor.

His commanding officer, Wing Commander Mark Biggadike, said: "Scotty was one of the most dependable and intelligent officers I have had the pleasure of working with.

"He died tragically doing a job he loved and flying an aircraft he personally invested so much of his time developing."

Flt Lt Scott, from London, was part of the 33 Squadron Royal Air Force.

Flt Lt Roberts, originally from North Wales, had been an air traffic controller and joined the RAF in 1988.

Flt Lt Roberts, who was married with two children, became Crewman Leader of the 230 Squadron Royal Air Force only joining the Puma Force just over a year ago.

Friend and colleague Flt Lt Kevin Hare said: "He cared about his job so much, constantly pushing themselves and never accepting mediocrity.

He spoke with such joy about his time growing up in north Wales and strove to ensure he gave his own children the best opportunities and experiences.

His commanding officer Wing Commander Toby Sawbridge said: "Roly was an extremely experienced, loyal and dedicated loadmaster.

"He was my go to man for all crewman issues and his honest and direct approach was always welcomed.

"A loving husband and father our thoughts are with his wife and children at this most difficult of times."

Leader of Oxfordshire County Council, Ian Hudspeth, said: "We have been saddened to hear news overnight of the military casualties in Afghanistan.

Oxfordshire is a county with a very strong military presence and I am sure the thoughts of everyone in the county will be with the families and colleagues of these two people at such a difficult time."

A 19 year-old woman has died after a collision with a car on the A40 on Friday morning between Oxford and Cassington

A 23 year old man has been arrested in connection with the incident and was released on bail until October 23

At around 12 35am a silver Ford Focus traveling along the A40 collided with a pedestrian

The pedestrian – a 19-year old woman – died at the scene

Her next of kin has been informed

The A40 was closed between the Eynsham roundabout and the Wolvercote roundabout until around 8am

Detective inspector Steve Roffield, from Thames Valley Police said "We are dealing with a fatal collision in which a young girl has tragically lost her life."

Investigators examined the scene while the road was closed

Police are calling for anyone with information about the incident to call 101 in particular anyone who saw the victim or the car prior to the collision

'Teacher made me sleep in same bed'

By Loughlan Campbell

AN alleged victim of historic sex abuse at a Jewish boarding school in Wallingford claims as a 12-year old his teacher would 'hang on his bedroom door unless he slept in the same bed as him

The man who cannot be named for legal reasons was speaking from Auckland in New Zealand via a video link played at Oxford Crown Court on Friday

He is one of eight men who claim they were abused by Trevor Bolton between 1963 and 1988 while he was a teacher at Carmel School

Bolton, 76, of Kestrel Way in Clacton-on-Sea in Essex is facing a total of 25 charges covering a catalogue of abuse

The alleged victim told a jury of 12 men and women that from the age of 12 Bolton would invite him to his flat where he would play video games and there was an unlimited supply of chocolate

He said "In the beginning, I would pop up to the flat and there would be a bit of cuddling and gradually our interactions increased as he spent more time there

"He tickled me and then it progressed from there to sexual and physical contact The first time I had my trousers on and the times after that I didn't"

The alleged victim said he was sexually abused by Bolton on 10 occasions over 18 to 16 months

The man now in his mid 40s said on two occasions Bolton insisted on him joining his teacher in his bed.

He said "He came to my dormitory which I shared with a room mate on two occasions On one occasion, he was on the edge of the bed shaking me awake and I was really shocked and got really scared

"The next time I moved my bed to the door to stop him coming down. He started banging on the door and I got really nervous so I immediately opened the door and went up with him that night"

He said Bolton sent a letter to his father asking to take him on a trip with him So he and his father had a meeting with the school's headmaster and told him about the abuse

He said the headmaster told him Bolton had been blacklisted and left the school.

But defence prosecutor Barry Gilbert questioned his version of events

Mr Gilbert told the man, "You were a student for some years after you claim he left, and that he left the school in 1984

"Did you know that Mr Bolton actually left the school in 1988?"

The man replied. "That's impossible you can ask hundreds of people at the school He was not in the school you can ask all the teachers he was not there"

Mr Gilbert told the witness that according to his conversations with the former headmaster there was never a meeting with the victim the headmaster and his father

Former school pupil Harvey Young who was at the school between 1982 and 1988 was asked by Mr Gilbert, "When did Mr Bolton leave the school?"

Mr Young said "Mr Bolton left in 1988 The school never told us the reason why"

Carmel College in Mongewell Park near Wallingford closed down in 1997 The trial continues

Stricter rent rules decision

AN Oxford City Council scheme enforcing stricter rules on landlords who want to rent houses to more than two tenants could be extended for another five years

The Houses in Multiple Occupation (HMO) licensing scheme is an attempt to crack down on landlords who manage properties badly

It means they need a special licence in rent to three or more people Officers inspect the building to check for regulations before a licence is issued.

Adrian Chowns of the council s HMO enforcement team said in his report "It is clear from the evidence issues the scheme has still not fully addressed the issues relating to poor management and the condition of HMOs In addition the evolving and buoyant housing market in Oxford has resulted in the number of HMOs increasing year on year"

During a 10 week consultation in June 53 per cent of respondents strongly agreed there are poorly managed HMOs in Oxford.

The city council, which introduced the new rules in 2011, came under criticism from landlords and estate agents

The initial application, which costs £712 could increase to £999 The council s executive board is due to decide whether to extend the scheme tonight at Oxford Town Hall from 6pm.

Checks scaled down from 10 to 60 minutes month before death

THE consultant psychiatrist of a Headington teenager who drowned in a bath at an NHS unit in Headington has said while the death was "tragic beyond words" she does not believe there was a failure of care on her part.

Connor Sparrowhawk, 18, drowned after an epileptic seizure at Slade House in Headington in July 2013.

At the jury inquest into the teenager's death on Monday at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road the unit and Connor's consultant psychiatrist Dr Valerie Murphy, said: "In hindsight we could have made some different decisions.

However, with the information that we had at the time and in terms of balancing the pros and cons I think we made the right decisions at the time.

"I do not believe there was a failure of care on my part."

Sparrowhawk, who had Klinefelter's syndrome and epilepsy, was found unconscious at the unit in July 2013.

He was a student at John Watson School in Wheatley and was diagnosed with epilepsy at 16 before being sectioned at the unit on March 21 in 2013.

By Loughlan Campbell

On June 3, it was decided by staff at the facility that the observation checks on Connor could drop from every ten minutes to hourly checks.

Connor was an informal patient at the hospital, meaning he could leave the unit if he wanted to.

When Dr Murphy explained the decision to cut down the checks she said: "I was aware that Connor was informally there at the unit and we would have needed a good reason to keep him on 10-minute checks rather than the hourly ones."

She added: "It was my understanding that he had never had a seizure while he was on the ward."

Connor's care at the unit was also described as one of a "flattened hierarchy" in which all the staff at the unit had an "input" into his care but that no one was in charge of him.

Dr Murphy added: "I would like to say this has been absolutely devastating for everybody and I think about it every day. It was tragic beyond words. At the end of the day a young man lost his life and I'm sorry about that."

Christmas lights fest

OXFORD: Oxford's Christmas countdown will launch on November 20 with a lantern procession and light show.

A £15,000 cash boost for the celebration was announced on Monday from the Arts Council to Oxford City Council.

The procession is due to start in New Inn Hall Street and make its way through the city centre with 240 youngsters from the city's primary schools, before a light projection finale in Broad Street.

Awareness week

OXON: Thames Valley Police is running a series of activities this week as part of National Hate Crime Awareness Week, which was launched on Saturday and ends today.

Neighbourhood teams have been working with community groups to promote understanding of what a hate crime is.

A social media campaign used hashtag #WeStandTogether.

Car crash death

SHRIVENHAM: A 52-year-old man from Faringdon died after a car crash in Longcot Road on Saturday.

Just after 5pm he was driving his silver Lotus Elise towards Shrivenham when it left the road and went into a field through a fence.

Decision due on shipping container pizza restaurant

PLANS for a pop up stone baked pizza restaurant in a storage container set up outside the entrance to Didcot's Sainsbury's will go under the hammer for a decision by South Oxfordshire District Council next Wednesday.

The temporary pizza restaurant would be assembled next to the amphitheatre-style steps in the Orchard Centre.

Designs show space for tables and seating both inside and outside and a traditional pizza oven.

The planning application was submitted by developers Hammerson, the same developers due to start building work on the £50 million second phase of Didcot's Orchard Centre shopping centre in the coming months.

The plans state that once the extension to Didcot's Orchard Centre is finished the pizza restaurant would move into one of the restaurant units to be built.

South Oxfordshire District Council's planning officers recommended the plans for approval in a report published on Tuesday.

However Didcot Town Council urged members of SODC's planning committee to reject the proposal as it is "not in keeping with the street scene".

The structure itself would be adapted and altered from a 9m by 6m storage container as a temporary unit for up to two years.

The report states: "The use of the building will add to the vibrancy of this part of the Orchard Centre. It will bring wider benefits in terms of choice for consumers and have a positive impact on the local economy in both the short term and the long term."

A decision is to be made by SODC's committee at The Fountain Conference Centre in Howbery Park, Crowmarsh Gifford, at 6pm next Wednesday, October 21.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, 'broken or damaged' by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window in any type of frame and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it is not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that having the good name a warranty perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really don't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that has approach as a major factor in his success. The truths that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.

So if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Oxford Half Marathon 2015

THE 2015 Oxford Half Marathon on Sunday did not quite run without a hitch as delayed trains meant hundreds of racers missed the start and the leader was led the wrong way forcing him to retire early

In total 6456 completed the 13 1-mile route through the city centre, out of 7 500 registered for the race

But many missed the official start due to delays near Reading of trains from London because of technical problems

Meanwhile race leader Vincent Bott had to pull out after two miles when he was sent the wrong way because of crowds on the route in Banbury Road

A statement from organisers GO2 events said. This has been

By Alex Ballinger

investigated and we have found that large crowd support in the first couple of miles meant spectators spilt onto the roads

"Unfortunately this prevented the lead motorbike from taking the correct route but was instantly resolved so that the lead car could continue correctly and all other runners were unaffected."

The race had been delayed by 15 minutes to wait for latecomers on trains much to the dismay of those at the start line who had already warmed up and were raring to go

Reports on Twitter said hundreds were stuck on trains from London Paddington station while about 50 people were stuck on the platform at Didcot Parkway while waiting for trains

However those who reached the start smoothly were treated to ideal running weather and a tour of the city's historic scenery which took in University Parks and the Radcliffe Camera.

Crowds of thousands drummed up support to urge the runners on

Steve Nayler from Witney won the race crossing the finish line in St Giles in one hour 10 minutes and 24 seconds followed by Dave Bruce from Oxford City Athletics Club ten seconds later

The fastest woman across the line was Fabienne Amrhein in one hour 15 minutes and 53 seconds

Jamie Warren from GO2 said "We are extremely pleased with the performances put on by our runners supporters and partners at today's event who all contributed to the electric atmosphere felt in the heart of the city and out on course."

Neville Koopowitz CEO of sponsors Vitality said "We were delighted to see so many runners take part in today's Vitality Oxford Half Marathon and congratulations to Steve and Fabienne

"It was a superb turnout."

• The route took runners past the Radcliffe Camera for the first time

OXFORDSHIRE Guardian reporter Alex Ballinger was among the runners taking part in his first half marathon

Months of gruelling training paid off to see him cross the finish line one hour 30 minutes and 37 seconds in 347th place

He raised £335 for Oxford based charity KEEN which runs sports and social clubs for people with disabilities

Rapist's friend tried to harm girl's reputation

By Alex Ballinger

A TEENAGE rapist from Oxford who destroyed the young victim's life was jailed for seven and a half years on Thursday.

Nathan Ogbene, 18, of Abingdon Road, was convicted at Oxford Crown Court for raping a 13 year-old girl in February.

And his friend was also jailed for 16 months after sending an anonymous letter to her boss making 'malicious allegations' to undermine her character ahead of the court trial.

While sentencing Ogbene Judge Peter Ross said: "Suffice it to say it destroyed this woman's life.

"She lost her job, she lost her life. The immediate impact on her was obvious. She was utterly distraught.

"You were taking advantage of someone who was incapable of resisting."

During a drinking session at a house in Oxford city centre overnight, the victim was put to bed by a friend after having drunk too much alcohol.

Ogbene went into the room and raped her.

The victim feigned sleep out of fear and then pushed him away and ran out of the room, Judge Ross said.

He was found guilty by a unanimous jury at the same court on August 14 after a five-day trial.

Judge Ross added: "You hold negative views of women in particular and of society in general."

The court heard Ogbene's dad was in prison when he was born and his mother did not want to raise him so he lived with his aunt.

Ogbene was then sent to Nigeria aged nine to live with his grandmother and after finishing school aged 14 he was flown to Heathrow alone and was taken into care.

> He foolishly tried to interfere

In a related case which could not be reported until Ogbene's sentencing had been carried out another man was sentenced to 16 months in jail and ordered to pay a £100 victim surcharge.

Luke Howarth, 20, of Feunt Street in Lambeth, London, pleaded guilty to perverting the course of justice at Oxford Crown Court on September 21.

Howarth sent a letter to the victim's employer in the months leading up to Ogbene's trial in an attempt to damage her reputation.

Investigating officer Detective Constable George Atkinson of Oxford Force CID said: "He foolishly tried to interfere with proceedings of such a serious nature with the view that he was trying to help his friend Ogbene and has been punished for it."

He added: "I am pleased with the sentences and hope the closure of these two cases now allows the victim to move on with her life."

New fitness project for over 60s

RESIDENTS living in rural parts of South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse aged 60 or over can try taster sessions of various sports as part of a new £227,000 scheme launching in January.

SODC's cabinet member for leisure Anne Badcock said: "We are absolutely delighted to receive this funding. Being active is vital at this age and by exercising we can help reduce the years confined to an armchair."

Vale's cabinet member for leisure Charlotte Dickson added: "This project will ensure opportunities are available for older people in the rural areas to get active."

PM's generation rent fix comes under fire

By Loughlan Campbell

PRIME Minister and Witney MP David Cameron's plans for starter homes have faced criticism from Oxford's leaders who claim the plans will make the city's housing crisis even worse.

The Prime Minister made the announcement at his keynote speech in the Conservative Party Conference in Manchester last Wednesday.

He spoke about trying to help generation rent become generation buy.

The scheme will mean 200,000 first time buyers, who must be aged under 40, will be able to buy new homes or flats at a 20 per cent discount.

The leader of the Conservative Party said: "Today I can announce a dramatic shift in housing policy in our country: the old rules where we said to developers you can build on this site but only if you could build affordable homes for rent, we will now replace with new rules.

"The new rules will say you can build here and those affordable homes can be available to buy, from generation rent to generation buy."

For buyers to apply, they cannot have owned their own home previously and will not be able to sell or rent the properties for their full market value for five years.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price said: "This policy might be welcomed by the very few people who are both eligible and can afford it.

"But in Oxford it will mean fewer homes for affordable rent.

"When combined with the government's policies on right to buy and forcing councils to sell council homes, reducing our ability to require homes for affordable rent means we won't be able to build the homes desperately needed by key workers and the 3,500 people on our housing waiting list."

> "In Oxford it will mean fewer homes for affordable rent"

Only 22 Oxford households bought their own home in its first 18 months in the government's help to buy scheme.

Developers have built 873 affordable homes in Oxford in the last decade, 610 of which were for social rent.

Green City councillor Sam Hollick said: "The city council is speaking with one voice on this matter. Affordable housing is the biggest issue in Oxford and recent government policy changes will make this crisis even worse.

"To provide new social housing, the council must also be prepared to revisit ideas that it has previously dismissed, such as looking at where new jobs are located and prioritising homes over hotels."

Spokesman for Generation Rent campaign group Dan Wilson Craw said: "Starter homes will do nothing for renters who are really struggling.

"Under the Prime Minister's plans only 200,000 already relatively well-off households will get to buy a home."

Girl walking to bus raped in broad daylight

A 15 YEAR OLD girl was dragged from a road in Blackbird Leys and raped on a dirt track.

She was walking along Barnes Road between 2pm and 4pm towards a bus stop near Blackbird Leys Bridge when a man grabbed her arm and pulled her down a muddy track next to the bridge.

He raped her and walked away leaving her on the muddy path on Sunday September 20.

An investigation was launched by Thames Valley Police after the offence was reported to them last Tuesday.

A 17-year old boy from Oxford was arrested on Friday on suspicion of rape. He has been bailed until November 22.

Investigating officer detective inspector Steve Raffield said: "Specialist officers are supporting the victim who has reported this rape to us. What happened to this young girl is unimaginable and I am sure that members of the public will be shocked to hear about this incident which happened in broad daylight."

The offender is described as white in his late teens 5 feet 7 or 8 inches tall with short dark hair, blue eyes, freckles on his face and a short ginger beard. He was wearing a chain around his neck, black trainers and dark grey Nike jogging bottoms.

Paul Potts; the moment that made TV talent show history

By James Richings

IT has been more than eight years since Carphone Warehouse salesman Paul Potts wowed millions of TV viewers with one of the UK's best rags to riches moments.

When he opened his mouth to sing Nessun Dorma during Britain's Got Talent TV show audition a very sceptical audience was well and truly won over.

Whether to reminisce about one of the TV talent show's greatest moments or to witness the man from Port Talbot's transformation, Paul Potts will be at the New Theatre, Oxford on Wednesday, October 22.

"I really stumbled onto the Britain's Got Talent application form by accident as I pressed the wrong button on a pop up window. And I then flipped a coin to enter," Paul told the Guardian.

"I decided as I had no actual chance of being chosen in my view, it didn't make a difference. So I decided to flip a coin, heads I'd submit the application, tails I would cancel and never think of it again.

• Paul Potts

"Thankfully it landed on heads and I never believed I had a chance of being chosen. Let alone winning it."

After his rendition of the love song from Puccini's opera Turandot was televised to five million people on June 9 2007, Paul's shy but likeable persona went on to catch the heartstrings of people worldwide.

The YouTube video's views, have topped 140 million and counting.

Paul has gone onto record four studio albums, of which his debut 'One Chance' reached number one in nine countries, performed sell-out tours all over the world and even had a film created about him.

And the taste of success was particularly sweet for the 45-year-old who was badly bullied growing up.

Paul got the last laugh.

"Bullies only win if you allow them to and by keeping on going you are the one that wins," Paul said.

"The bully loses every time you keep looking forward rather than back, and you don't have to become world famous to do this. You can do this in everyday life."

His show at the George Street theatre starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £19.90 to £32.90.

He added: "I have performed at New Theatre twice before in 2008 and in 2009.

"It's a lovely theatre to perform in and I am really looking forward to returning.

"On the night, everybody can expect a real mix of music from all four of my albums, plus one or two new items."

Chekhov's tragicomedy 'The Cherry Orchard'

A WALLINGFORD production of Anton Chekhov's 'The Cherry Orchard' will be grappling with dual themes of calamity and comedy at the Cara Exchange

Curtains rose for the opening show last night launching a run of performances by The Sinodun Players until Saturday

The classic drama set amid the turmoil of 20th Century Russia follows a cash strapped aristocratic family in a dire financial mess

Chekhov had described it as a comedy but its first director unveiled it in 1904 as a tragedy

The Wallingford production's director Erica Harley said: "I love to show doubters that Chekhov has a sense of humour and is replicating real people with real lives and real situations

"I want to destroy the myth that Chekhov plays are slow dull and dreary I believe they are full of life, full of fun and can move one to tears But are essentially full of hope"

By James Richings

The play focuses on a woman coming to terms with her son's death who arrives home to find the cherry orchard she left behind has bloomed into something beautiful only to discover the estate might have to be sold

The Cherry Orchard was the last play Chekov wrote before he died of tuberculosis in 1904 six months after it was first performed

Erica who has directed eight productions in the last seven years with the Sinodun Players added "Everyone can expect to see a strong cast displaying their understanding of these wonderful characters

"It will be full of light, darkness, comedy and tragedy with genuine characters with real emotional journeys to travel

The three remaining productions tonight tomorrow and on Saturday start at 7 45pm.

Tickets cost £10

Fusion blend of Brooklyn with Canadian folk

AFTER a summer of radio airplay, festivals and touring Europe Canadian country musician Miriam Jones is back at The Wheatsheaf.

By James Richings

The gig on Tuesday October 27 will be a more stripped back intimate set than her album launch in February

Miriam and bass player Simon Edwards will be joined by Brooklyn songwriter Clarence Bucaro

'He's agreed with gusto to do a duet with me on the night as well which is thrilling, and I have a couple of new songs to share," Miriam told the Guardian.

"February's album launch was enjoyed by a full house and as I recall a frisky one at that but I also consider it my home crowd - so yes, I'm very happy to be returning."

Since her last visit Miriam has enjoyed a bursting 2015 which has included her moving from Oxford to London

The country singer, who also performs folk and blues is writing new material for her next album and preparing to record an EP including some never before released old tracks

"There's a conundrum in becoming a full time musician because you have to approach it like a full time job to give what's necessary to even become excellent at what you do let alone get anyone to take notice" she said

"As for a big break I thought I had it on Canadian national radio back in 2007 and at other moments since but I've given up approaching my career like that

"Best you can ask for is to have a fire for it and be able to find ways to keep at it, feast or famine

"I suppose It's probably nigh on impossible"

Doors at the High Street gig open at 8pm and tickets cost £8

Citric Acid is a philosophical satire of the hipster generation by students Mina Elsehady, Temple and Alex Hawkins. Test Alice and Sam two twenty-something university graduates who have lost in a big wide world. Can setting up a lemonade stand in Ghost Patch give them lives some purpose?

GORDON CORERA
Like in cyber-James Bond, the computer was born to spy. The work of Alan Turing led to the birth of electronic espionage. In the following decades computers transformed intelligence from the spy hunting of the Cold War years to the data-driven pursuit of terrorists and the corporate cyber-espionage of the 21st century.
Drawing on unique access to Western intelligence agencies and insight into the most powerful technology companies, BBC Security Correspondent Gordon Corera explores the new space in which the worlds of espionage, diplomacy, international business and technology collide.
Introduced by journalist and broadcaster Quentin Cooper.

Diddy concede 14 in Don's cup mauling

By Loughlan Campbell

DIDCOT Town were mauled 14 0 by the MK Dons in the Berks and Bucks County Senior Cup opener at the Loop Meadow on Tuesday night

The Dons Nicky Maynard, Tom Hitchcock and Kabongo Tshimanga all netted hat-tricks as the away side ran riot with Didcot unable to find the net despite valiantly battling on against a far superior side

It wasn't all bad for Didcot with the club's Twitter page going viral with their comments on the game as their side were put to the sword by Karl Robinson's team

The Dons brought a relatively strong side to South Oxfordshire with Samir Carruthers and Mark Randall in the squad whilst Didcot joint-managers Ian Concannon and Jamie Heapy put out their mostly unchanged starting eleven

Maynard had the Dons first chance in the opening minute, firing off target to the left before Sergio Aguza and ex Real Madrid youth team player Cristian Benavente netted in the first six minutes

The Dons who were led by first team coach and former Republic of Ireland international Keith Andrews were then three up with 15 minutes played as Giorgio Rasulo struck the top left hand corner from 25 yards

Braces from Hitchcock and Maynard brought the scores to 7-0 at half time with Graham Edney forcing the Dons Charlie Burns into making a smart stop during the half as the Diddy sought to cease the relentless bombardment on their goal

The Didcot Town Twitter account summed up the half as "Nothing to report here just Didcot 0 7 MK Dons at half time"

Maynard completed his hat trick shortly after the re start before Aguza knocked in his stunning second of the night with an effort from 35 yards

It was double figures for the Dons as Hitchcock sealed his hat trick with a penalty and Tshimanga capitalised on a defensive error to make it eleven

The young striker then quickly knocked in a further two efforts within the space of a minute before Randall finished off the scoring in the 84th minute with a fine finish

The Didcot Town Twitter account finished off their reporting of the game in style with the tweet "Tonight's game worked out 62p a goal who says Non League Football isn't value for money"

It's back to business in the Evo Stik Southern League Division One South & West this weekend for the Diddy who will face off with Cinderford Town in Gloucestershire on Saturday

Injuries undo Chinnor in Redruth defeat

CHINNOR were counting the costs of injuries after they suffered their sixth successive defeat at Redruth on Sunday in a 34 32 result

The visitors had more than 20 players out of the game through injury and unavailability but Robbie Martey sent them off to a flier as he crossed early on.

Dave Mankee kicked a penalty for Redruth before Chinnor scored a second try through Bertie Hopkin, who then converted his effort

The hosts then went in front after Luke Hattam and Tam Cowan Dickie crossed.

Chinnor's George Blewitt then crossed for an unconverted try before Sam Person replied and Mankee converted the effort for a 22-17 score

Redruth then stretched further in front with Shaun Buzza diving over and Mankee put the conversion through the posts

Chinnor hit back through Blewitt and Will Millett with a successful conversion setting the game up for a tight finish with the scores at 29-29

The hoste struck first as Cowan Dickie just managed to scrape the baltever the line for a 34 29 score

Chinnor then couldn't snatch the win despite another Hoskins penalty

Plato misses title by just four points in BTCC season finale

JASON Plato was gracious in defeat as he lost the British Touring Car Championship title to rival Gordon Shedden in the final race at Brands Hatch on Sunday

The Oxford driver dominated the final race of the season and for long periods looked like he was going to grab his third title before Shedden climbed to fourth to pip Plato to the title

Plato won the season's climax in the nail biting final race but it was not enough with his rival climbing all the way from nineteenth to secure the title

The Team BMR driver had gone into the weekend trailing Shedden by 23 points and he finished the first race in fifth whilst Shedden finished sixth

Plato's sixth place finish in race two saw the lead cut to 12 points with Shedden finishing in 19th.

The driver tweeted after the event "Gave it 100% close again no cigar again! Rock on 2016

"Congrats GS (Gordon Shedden) truly a great scrap high and lows right until the end Enjoy your moment, thoroughly deserved"

The final standings saw the 48 year old who celebrated his birthday yesterday finish on 344 points with Shedden wrapping up the title on 348 points

The 2016 BTCC season starts next April

United stay in title mix after Baldock screamer

By Loughlan Campbell

A LATE George Baldock winner kept Oxford United in the mix near the top of the Sky Bet League Two table in an intense affair at the Kassam Stadium on Saturday as goals against AFC Wimbledon

New signing Jordan Graham and United hotshot Kemar Roofe put in a solid shift against the Dons but they simply couldn't find that magic spark in the final third for the majority of the game

The Dons themselves battered the United goal from range on occasion and United hit the bar through Slocombe in the second half when the game was looking like it was running out of steam

However Baldock was allowed to drift into space and his long range effort managed to fly through the defence and into the Wimbledon net as United snatched the three points

It was an intermittently dull affair in the first half with Graham and Roofe the only real bright spots for the U's

Straight after the re start Roofe burst through the middle but his through ball to Hylton was just tipped away from the striker's right leg as he ran into the box

A amazing run from Roofe led him to chipping it in the box to Taylor who played in Sercombe whose shot hammered off the crossbar in a fantastic chance in the 52nd minute

Adebayo Akinfenwa then put the ball over the top from six yards out in a dangerous bit of play from The Dons with twenty minutes to go

It wasn't until the 80th minute that George Baldock was allowed space on the far right and he coasted in to lash a shot from range which just crept into the far right hand corner of Shea's net sealing the win.

Chapman grabs podium finish on final day

OXFORD'S Matt Chapman secured his maiden podium in the final race of the Ginetta Junior Championship season at Brands Hatch Grand Prix on Sunday

Chapman has been hampered by misfortune on multiple occasions in his races over the course of the season but finally got his reward with a third place finish in round 20

The 15 year old also posted the fastest lap of the race and his haul for the weekend elevated him into the championship top ten

He said after the race "I'm really happy At the start of the weekend it really didn't look like we'd be in a position to try and be on the podium

"It looked like we'd be mid pack as we were involved in some contact and ended up ninth in race one

"We knew we could go somewhere from ninth on the grid in race two but we didn't know we'd get to the podium Fastest lap was a bonus too, it feels so good to get my first podium and we can feel confident now for whatever we do next year"

Chapman began race two on the fifth row of the grid but went on to set the fastest lap with a time of 1 minute 46 140 seconds

Millers hold heads high despite cup blow to higher league team

MARK Gee's dominating North Leigh side were undone in the FA Cup on Saturday at Chesham United in a 2 0 defeat

The Millers were able to match their opponents who play in the league above, all through the ninety minutes but were unable find the net.

The second half saw Chesham play the ball with a little bit more verve but Leigh were unlucky not to snatch the opener when Aaron Woodley hit the bar after beating Chesham keeper George Legg with a chip

Woodley was then fouled in the penalty area but no penalty was given as the game became heated and captain Wayne Turk was booked.

The referee then gave Chesham a penalty on 83 minutes when a Chesham striker was brought down and Dave Pearce converted the spot kick.

Leigh attempted to push forward but were then subsequently caught out three minutes later as Pearce slotted home his second which made it impossible for Leigh to recover in time

Up next from the Millers are Larkhall Athletic at Eynsham Park on Saturday with Mark Gee's side still sitting at the top of the table on with 24 points having played nine games in the league so far

City crash out to Bognor in cup test

HIGH FLYING Oxford City were brought back down to earth with a bump after they crashed out of the Emirates FA Cup with a disappointing 4 2 defeat at lower league Bognor Regis Town.

City had led twice in the first half of the third qualifying round tie thanks to a Grant Smith own goal and Jose Lapoujade's header but couldn't hold the lead in the exciting tussle

Bradley Bubb's cross was turned in to the net by goalkeeper Smith in the 13th minute with City dominating possession.

However Bognor struck back with five minutes left in the first half as City keeper Laurie Walker spilled a cross and Bognor's Doug Tick lurched forward only to be tripped by Oxford's Alejandro Adrian Santiago

Walker managed to get a hand to the effort but the net bulged though, Oxford soon hit back with Lapoujade heading home a free kick at the far post

Bognor's equaliser came on 72 minutes as substitute Alex Parsons barrelled the ball into the net and just three minutes later he gave his side the lead.

City looked shell shocked and couldn't recover as their defensive frailties came back to haunt them with Jason Prior slotting in the fourth and killer goal

Graham causes stir at United following star showings

PRAISE FOR U'S STAR LOANEE

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD United star Jordan Graham has the backing of his teammates with talks over keeping the Wolves loanee at the Kassam Stadium past his 28-day move currently on-going.

Graham made his debut in the stunning 2-0 win over Swindon Town last Tuesday in which he sent fans home purring with his play down the wing.

The 20 year old has caught the eye of his team mate Sam Baldock with the defender claiming he can be as good as he wants to be."

The duo linked up well in the 1-0 win over AFC Wimbeldon at the Kassam Stadium last Saturday with the right back grabbing the winning goal with ten minutes left to play.

Baldock said after the game "We didn't realise he was going to be that good when he came in. He is quite a lively character and he took us back a bit when he first arrived.

"He can be as good as he wants to be and we're very happy to have someone with his talents at the club."

Graham was one of the high lights for United in the win and the winger said that he didn't really expect the standard of football in League Two to be at such a high standard.

He said "When I got here I had no idea how quality the football would be. I mean I come from the Championship and it's very close to the same standard that you would see by some of these players on the pitch.

"I didn't get much game time at Wolves but since I got here I've been really taken back by the fans especially during Swindon and the general atmosphere at the club.

"I'm feeling confident and I'm raring to go at this club however long I end up staying here."

The winger had just played 40 minutes of first team football before he arrived at the Kassam Stadium two weeks ago.

The U's contacted Wolves shortly after his arrival with talks on extending his move believed to still be ongoing.

Up next for Graham and United is an enticing encounter at Leyton Orient on Saturday followed by a crunch game with league leaders Plymouth.
